The Workshop on 'Full-Text Search with ElasticSearch using Microservices'. Technical team is in fact delighted to hand-hold you through the key aspects of this particular Search topic by conducting on-campus sessions spread over a span of five months.

However, before you register for this Workshop, we expect you to understand the underlying essence behind the conduct of this Workshop.

Why are We Conducting this Workshop?

At UniCourt, we believe that one of the ways towards achieving Excellence is through Sharing and Collaboration. To transform our belief into reality, our technology experts will be helping you to accelerate your journey towards Technical Excellence by creating an interactive platform through this Workshop which would focus on providing:

- Exposure to trending Open Source technologies that modern Deep Tech companies like ourselves use.
- In-depth knowledge of Cloud-Native technologies to enable you to deploy modern day applications on public cloud infrastructure such as AWS, Azure, GCP using microservices.

Who All Should be a part of this Workshop?

This workshop is primarily for 3rd Year Students. However, interested 2nd Year students can also register for the same.

What's in it for You?

- Opportunity to gain hands-on experience on 'Full-Text Search with ElasticSearch using Microservices' [Docker, ElasticSearch, Logstash, Kibana, REST APIs, Python]
- Platform to interact with the subject matter experts.
- Opportunity to join UniCourt as a Software Engineer with an embedded internship of six months.
