Academic Year	2018-2019
Name of the program	Wealth out of waste
Date	22.4.2019
Number of Participants	4 teams(5 members each in a team)- First year B E

The "Wealth out of Waste" competition provided valuable insights into the potential of waste materials as a valuable resource for creative expression and sustainable innovation. Entries showcased the transformative power of art and design in reimagining waste as a source of wealth and beauty. The competition also highlighted the importance of raising awareness about waste management issues and promoting responsible consumption and recycling habits. A diverse range of participants contributed to the competition, showcasing their ingenuity and resourcefulness in transforming waste materials into innovative creations. Entries included sculptures, fashion accessories, home décor items, garden ornaments, and more, all crafted from repurposed materials such as plastic bottles, cardboard, paper, metal scraps, and textile remnants.

Winners were announced across various categories, including the most innovative design, best use of materials, and overall sustainability impact.
